Letter from an Old Typo.

CHELSEA BEACH, MASS., (Sunday!) Aug. 26, 1849. DEAR GEORGE .- It is now about three o'clock, P. M., and I am writing from a cozy seat inside my wagon. You wi'll ecollect that I promised writing you from this place. It is very pleasant here—the more so to me, from this place. It is very pleasant here—the more so to me, from the fact of my being an ardent lover of freedom to range whithersoever I please. The Beach, with its varied landscape, the blue and free waters laving at its side, for miles around, presents a beautiful scene. Seals are sporting on the rocks amid the ocean before me, and various wild fowl are skimming over the heinst deep additional contents to the printer. the briny deep adding additional enchantment to the picturesque view. Nahant is in the distance, and the Robinson

Ciusoe Hunse near by. To the reflective mind, to the soul yearning for the romantic and the marvelious, what thoughts are being wrought Grandeur and beauty so profusely bestowed by nature upon her works, fill my heart to satiety, and I inwardly long that thus it may ever be. But a valued friend is one of my companions to the seaside. It is the Captain! And pray, methinks you ask, who is the captain? I will tell you, dear George. It is an old chum—a real live typo, bearing the name of George B. Ed-wards—you ought to know him and perhaps you do.—a brother of James G. Edwards, the editor of the Burlington Hawk Eye, Iowa. The captain is fast getting venerable in years, and has in former times tramped the Far West, in vatious ways and to divers places. He is a good and hone-t soul; may his declining sun be tichly laden with the fauits of a life well spent, and his last sleep the sleep of peace I would be with you, even for a very short hour, if circumstances permitted—perhaps I may even visit you in your sanctum—editorial! Strange things have taken place. But hold! I have not told you of our fried fish the clam chowder, thankfulness and gratitude fill our breasts for the sumptuous repast Nature has afforded us. Another friend, who accompanies the Captain, and a dear and wee sonnie of a neighbor of mine, are also partakers with us. Indeed, we are a happy set, and shall, no doubt, and the other el celeras. We have lived phat to-day! And enjoy our cide pleasantly. "Old Whitey," but not the General's old Whitey, has brought us down, and is now at grass around the environs of the beach. And speaking of the General, isn't it too bad, that the hero of Mexico should suffer himself to be so sadly duped by such an insignificant and wanton set of scape-goats as his Cabinet are composed of? Either the General is a foolish simpleton, or he counives and laughs at the treachery that follows his footsteps! It is bad enough even in its best light. I sincerely hope that Cass and Butler may be elected It is now just five o'clock, P. M., and we have to record an incident in reference to our old Whitey. While the friends were about on a tramp after water, old Whitey got awfully mired, and had it not been for the very opportune passing of two stranger friends, who heroically helped Whitey out of his perilous position, we most assuredly should have had to pay funeral ceremonies to his defunct carcase, for it would have been all over with him. He is now on his legs again, and we shall soon resume our homeward journey. The stranger friends, too, met at the same time, with a breakdown, their chaise having given way in the centre of he shafts. All, now, is fixed and we are starting for home. It is now eight o'clock, and our Whitey, notwithstanding is mishap, has brought us to our domicil at Cambridgeport. n safety and health. May our shadows never be less. All well and hope this finds you likewise.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE-INCENDIARISM .- This moraing, between 12 and 1 o'clock, a fire broke out in the carpenter's shop of Davis & Turner, on First between Main and Market streets, and the flames soon communicated to the Mechanic Engine House and the Livery Stables of Messrs. Johnson & Heinson, stage contractors, and Mr. Kennedy of this city, from this the fire spread to a building occupied in the first story by Mr. Bradly, as a blacksmith shop, and in the second by Mr. Bloodgood, as a carriage finishing shop, which was partially consumed. The loss of Messrs. Bradley & Bloodgood was not very large. The horses, carriages, &c., in the livery stables were all saved. We could not in the hurry as-

A PRACTICAL JOKE .- Not very long since, a small farmer in a little village in Somersetshire, who prided himself on his cheeses, in a fit of unwonted generosity-for he was a penurious man-sent to her majesty Queen Victoria a prime cheese. Its capacity for baking (which in the old Buck's stove exceeded every other stove,) has been greatly increased by the addition of another oven, which enables it to bake at one time twice as much as ordinary cooking stoves. Being made airtight, and having dampers, the fire can be regulated to suit every occasion.

Those who want a good cooking stove, one that can be relied upon, should see this new stove, as it cannot fail to please.

We warrant the stove to give satisfatcion, and can refer to hun dreds of families which have them in use. We will in every case it should fail to please upon trial, take back the stove and refund We have on hand the largest and best selected stock of stove ever brought to the market, consisting of Premium Cooking Stores of the lutest and most approved patterns, ten plate stores, very heavy plate, seven plate stores, several sizes, one size to take three feet wood suitable for churches and school houses, box stores and air tight stoves; also, the celebrated Stanley's and Saratoga air tight parlor stoves, the two most beautiful patterns of sir-tight stoves in the market.

In addition to the above, we manufacture and keep constantly on hand a general assortment of Tin Ware, which we offer wholesale or retail at very low prices. We are prepared to many ufacture all kinds of copperwork at the shortest notice.

Mesars. Sanford & Park-In June last I was attacked with that Mesers. Sanford & Park—In June last I was attacked with that most afflicting and unplea ant disease, the Chills and Fever. The Paroxysms returned daily, and were very severe. My physical energies had been much impaired by a previous attack of bilious fevet. Having tried several favorite remedies without relief, a friend in whom I had confidence, recommended Dr. Osgood's Indian Cholagogue. I procured a bottle, and followed the accompanying directions. The consequence was, that I had but one paroxysm after taking the first dose, and my general health was rapidly restored without using any other medicine. I disposed of the remainder of the bottle to two other persons similary afflicted, and will' the same results. One of them had been shaking for eight months, and was relieved in two days by the use of the Cholagogue. I consider it my duty, as it is my pleasure, to recommend it, having the most entire confidence in its sanative power. Yours, truly, S. P. CARY.
